

HEADS' LETTER

SEPTEMBER 20, 2007

REMINDER: PARENT/TEACHER CONFERENCES AND STUDENT HOLIDAYS: NEXT WEEK

1. Wednesday, September 26 is a Noon Dismissal Day. Extended Day is available till 6:00 p.m. Please reserve a space by calling Marie at (813) 961-3087 by Monday, September 24, 2007. Please send a lunch if your child is participating in extended day. Teachers will be attending in-service.
2. Parent/Teacher Conferences are Thursday, September 27 and Friday, September 28. Students will be out of school those days because teachers are running back to back conferences dedicated to making great connections with our families. If additional conference time is needed, please make arrangements with your teachers for follow-up sessions. Your IDS teachers are proud and excited to meet with all of you. Please be sure to reserve your time.

3. Parent guidelines for asking questions during a conference can be found in the September 6th and September 13th Heads' Letters under IDS News on our website <http://www.idsyes.com>.

YOU CAME THROUGH FOR A WIN: YARD SALE SHOWS TEAM EFFORT

A huge thanks to so many people that pulled together to make the Saturday, September 15, 2007, Yard Sale a huge success.

1. Corbett Hall was filled with slightly used treasures that had something for everyone. The generosity of our families to clean out and donate so many great things was amazing!
2. The dedication of our facilities team in picking up items of all sizes, loading, unloading, and storing them until that weekend earned them many kudos from our grateful volunteers.
3. The rallying of our RPCs by our RPC Coordinator Lisa Herscovici brought out parents from every grade to volunteer for both setting up on Friday and shifts for selling items on Saturday.
4. The careful planning and enthusiasm of our Yard Sale Chairs - Julie Salek, Patty DeEsch and Angie Kaliban created a fun event that was also a successful fundraiser.
5. All $5,000 will benefit every student in the school by helping to purchase equipment to secure the safety of our current stage and to purchase additional pieces for the multiple events that occur regularly. These events include class plays, musicals, fine arts nights, and graduation ceremony.

“EDU THOUGHTS” FOR PARENT CONFERENCES: LIFE SKILLS

When you join us for Parent Conferences, our teachers will be sharing three basic areas about your children:

1.) strengths, 2.) areas to improve, and 3.) goals for the future.

That conference agenda mirrors a great process for living our daily lives. Taking time to reflect on how to capitalize on our strengths builds confidence and pride in what we do. Taking time to examine areas in our lives where we can improve the ways in which we think and act, allows us to stay fresh, create new goals and remain current with honest humility. Taking time to set future goals and expectations allows us to begin to attract positive experiences in our lives. Adding PMA - a Positive Mental Attitude - to the process adds the joy and challenge to everyday living. WOW!!! The process is simple. Finding the time or energy to work through this process is the key...Enjoy sharing these steps with your children.

WE'RE PROUD OF OUR MIDDLE SCHOOL TEACHER GERY MOREY

Congratulations to our multi-talented science teacher Gery Morey whose article has been published on “eTips for Science Teachers”. Here’s what they wrote:

“As a science teacher, you know the importance of laboratory manuals. But you also know how much time it takes to grade them! In this issue of "eTips for Science Teachers," someone familiar with both "Introductory Physical Science" and "Force, Motion, and Energy," Gery Morey of the Independent Day School of Tampa, shows you how to streamline grading while still providing the feedback students need. The lead article is titled: "Lab Notebooks Provide Useful Feedback - In Less Time!"

MIDDLE SCHOOL NEWS

On Friday (9/21/07) in honor of International Peace Day, the IDS Middle School is going to contribute by making a huge human peace sign on the soccer field. Each middle school student will wear a white T-shirt and organize themselves in a peace sign while wearing the color of peace. We will take a picture that will help us remember this peaceful day for our country and the world. Learning to live with dignity and respect is a “world lesson” right here at home.

IDS FALL SPORTS SPIRIT DAY BY ATHLETIC DIRECTOR COACH HELLER

Monday, September 24, 2007, is Fall Sports Spirit Day. All Middle School students and parents are invited to stay after school to watch the IDS soccer team play Incarnation at 3:15 p.m. There will be teachers present if parents need to be elsewhere, so that all Middle School students can participate and cheer for IDS!

Is it possible to create a place where people treat each other with dignity and respect while at the same time soaring academically?

At Independent Day School - Corbett Campus, that dream emerges every day in an effort to make that possibility come true.

Just imagine a world of teachers and children trying to live “above the line” working to respect one another on an ongoing basis.

Just imagine people working together to create a joyful, brain-friendly environment that purposely combines the best of academics with social, emotional, and physical well-being.
